It was a trip I will never forget. It was early June and ~~me~~ ~~at~~ my parents and I decided to go on a camping trip. We were supposed to stay in the forest for a few days and then head back home when we got there we lit a fire and put up a tent. Then my mom told me to go get water. "Don't go off the path under any circumstances" - my parents said. I was a very curious child so I was somewhat ignorant of my father's warnings. I saw some bizzare bug and decided it would be no harm if I followed it for a bit. However, when I turned around the path was nowhere to be seen. I was very confused about how that happened. The thought of being lost was bewildering to me after all those stories my dad had told me. It was challenging to think straight but I decided to go in the opposite direction. That got me even more lost and I started panicing. After about an hour of walking I heard a call and my parents calling. I ran there and jumped into my mom's embrace. "We were so worried" - she said, crying. My dad was on the verge of tears too. We hugged and I promised to never do anything like that again.
