After the power of Russian scientists ~~was~~ ^{became} ~~obsolete~~ mechanical ~~sidewalks~~ sidewalks and holograms in museums ~~was~~ ^{were} only a matter of time. Technologies have integrated themselves in human lives. Nowadays, they are used to help people in every way possible. There is no better place to see all the latest inventions ~~s~~ at work than Moscow.

When a person walks in the city, they can not only see, but feel how technologies work. The air is clean and fresh, because all vehicles in the city are powered by electric batteries that can be recharged at the special stations or straight from the sun. However, cars are used much less than before. A lot of people prefer to travel by mechanical sidewalks. Furthermore, getting lost is no longer a problem. ~~Stations~~ Stations that use special recognition software are used to help people navigate through the city. It even has food station that caters to the welcoming atmosphere even further. Students spend their time learning new information ~~with~~ with the help of Holograms. Holograms of teachers help children learn and do their homework using recorded footage of real teachers. Because of this technology, kids have more time to visit museums or courses, some of which even teach them about teleportation used in delivery of food to ~~homes~~ ^{homes} or work places.

In conclusion, modern Moscow is a place of freedom and opportunity. Many of the tourists stay here forever. It truly is a place like no other.
