Now our school museum is full of knowledge: books, photos, documents etc. There is no limitation to the number of useful things. But the problem is lack of people who are really use this information for their advantage. Because of this a lot of resources that have been collected for a long time, now are not used

Why does it happen?

The reason why student's engagement with the museum is very low is simple. First of all, the organisation of the place is too difficult to understand. Students just do not understand where they can find what they need. Secondly, some information and objects can not be used as a truthful source.

It was difficult to output any ideas of what to do with the accessibility of the place. Firstly, we consider that the most significant thing is to clean resources from all unrelated objects and content, ~~anything that is not~~ that do not enhance with what students need. Secondly it is important to organise everything that way ^{so} every student will not be clueless how to find certain things.

Conclusion

We are hoping that our input will help the museum to become more accessible for the students to use. The museum is the most valuable place in our school because of the knowledge it keeps.
