This report is dedicated to the issue of lack of interest among students towards our current museum collection, it also contains a few possible solutions to problems listed here.

Our school museum contains a lot of interesting information about local people who fought in some wars that Russia and Soviet Union took part in.

Despite many attempts to make information in museum more visually appealing, it still faces limitations in terms of effectiveness. One of main issues, that I would like to point out, is lack of public access. With internet technologies advancing rapidly, it is odd to find out that our museum still has not got its own website. Another problem is that collection lacks some sort of engagement for students, who find it hard to acknowledge information from simple, plain text.

Possible solution for one of the problems listed above is making a website dedicated to our museum. This would allow a more easy access for students. Furthermore, in order to enhance students engagement in the process, it is possible to make QR-codes that will lead to a certain article on website for more information.

In conclusion, I would like to point out the fact that our museum suffers great decrease in cultural output, that is why we have to solve this problem.
