TO: the Headmistress

From: Mary Brown

Subject: ineffective usage of the school museum

Date: 16.02.21

Introduction

To begin with, ~~the~~<sup>our</sup> school has a vast collection of historic items in its possession. I am concerned The museum not being used properly is of students' concern. This issue should be solved as rapidly as possible. ~~as~~ <sup>sp?</sup>

Description

The museum is known as the room overwhelmed with various objects. Despite the fact that it may be ~~hard~~<sup>complicated</sup> to coordinate, the collection is priceless: not only does it contain archive photos, but also the books correlated with the town's history.

Reasons for the museum's inefficiency

There exist several explanations of this tendency. Firstly, the rare books and magazine collection provides the limitation of spare place. Piles of paper on the floor make the museum untidy and inconvenient. Secondly, the students are unaware of its advantages. Children and youngsters find visiting the museum dull and unattractive.

Recommendations

Generally, some alterations ~~can~~ be made. There is a possibility to remove extra books to the library. In addition, a website can be created to make these pieces accessible online.

Moreover, establishing ~~new~~ excursions is a descent output. They will enhance students' involvement into the ~~school~~ school's history. Excursions are to take place on a weekly basis. The conception is to give the museum a mysterious reputation by an interactive narration.

Conclusion

To summarise, it is vital to emphasise that the problem of the school museum being in disorder is being discussed.
I believe that my recommendations will appear helpful. I am convinced that students' engagement in school's heritage will increase soon.
